Final plans to build new schools unveiled

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

PLANS to build two primary schools in Haverhill have been supported but parents in Clare are considering a scheme to save their middle school.

Suffolk County Council has unveiled the final plans to reorganise schools in the Haverhill area, which involve axing three middle schools in the town and one at Clare.

The proposals, which are due go before the cabinet on June 24, include building two primary schools at Haverhill, to take pupils from three to 11 years in future. One would be a new Clements Primary School, to be built near the Clements Family Centre, and the other a replacement for Westfield Primary at the Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College site.

Future use of the Chalkstone, Parkway and Castle Hill Middle School sites would be carefully considered, but if not needed they would be sold for development land and the money reinvested in improving the remaining schools.

Cllr Patricia O'Brien, portfolio holder for schools, said 13 representations had been received on the Haverhill plans during the six-week consultation period, with issues raised about potential pupil numbers and where primary schools should be located.

Concerns were raised by Wickhambrook Primary, New Cangle, Westfield and Burton End Primaries in Haverhill and Clare Middle.

Coun O'Brien said the new primary school plans had met with general approval and all the issues raised would be considered before the final decision was made.

Pupils' art gallery is first class

FLOWERS of the rainforest were brought to life by pupils who helped set up a gallery to sell their work to parents.

Year 4 pupils at Westfield Primary School in Haverhill studied American artist Georgia O'Keefe and produced paintings following her style, with deputy headteacher Jill Lightfoot organising a professional-style exhibition. Parents were able to buy the framed paintings, and jigsaws made of the artwork. A donation will be made to the Rainforest Alliance.

Mrs Lightfoot said: "Children investigated the rainforest and its problems and started to look at the international and social dimensions of the topic. "The children excelled themselves. They have amazed us with their terrific work."

Bands line up for rockin' charity gig

BY Jo Deeks

Email:

editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

MUSIC continues to help boost our St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal this week as our total climbs towards the £15,000 mark.

Rock fans can enjoy a feast of local talent on Saturday, June 21, at a charity gig at Haverhill Arts Centre. Local band the Umbrella Assassins were planning a charity gig and decided the Weekly News appeal was the one they wanted to support.

Our campaign aims to raise £40,000 for St Nicholas Hospice to pay for services to be provided for patients in the Haverhill area in their own homes, rather than them having to travel to the hospice in Bury St Edmunds.

Doors open at 7pm and the appeal stands to benefit from an eclectic mix of indie, ska, rock and electro with Umbrella Assassins headlining the evening, bringing together the best talent Haverhill has to offer.

The Assassins are coming off a string of gigs and the foursome show no signs of letting up. The lads have produced a weight of new material in 2008 and have built a loyal following, attracting fans to shows all over the South East and in London.

Also taking the stage will be DMS and the Kraze, with their soulful ska sound bound to be a big hit. Readers may recall singer and guitarist Darren Smith, who featured on T4's Musicool last summer. He comes direct from headlining a gig at The Junction in Cambridge to show his support for the hospice.

Pellys Field promise to bring their stomping psychedelia to the people again, after an eventful year in which they were forced to change drummer. The band features three former members of local heroes Rupert's Tartan Scarf, who have lost none of their appeal. The guys are due to play the highly-regarded Philosopher's Fair near Mildenhall and have a great deal of experience in putting shows on.

Next in line are indie power pop punk-lets Indigo, runners up in this year's Haverhill Rock competition. The lads were reunited in late 2007 after a year-long sabbatical. With a new line-up and fresh ideas, they are producing a plethora of new material which casts long shadows over their older material.

Last, but by no means least, DJ sets are provided courtesy of indie-electro messiahs The Honoured Few. They say from small acorns great oaks grow, but no-one thought they would build such a strong following so quickly. With their first gigs only coming at the start of the year, the boys are still learning but it is clear many are enjoying the ride. They will be on in between bands and finish the night off as well.

Gary Mc Kervill, of Umbrella Assassins said:

"A night showcasing local talent promises to raise good money for a great cause."

The concert has been sponsored by Kirtan Healthcare, a local business, which was keen to get involved. Tickets are £5, available from the Haverhill Arts Centre box office on (01440) 714140.

For more details on the band visit www.myspace.com/umbrellaassassins

■ Also this week, a £600 cheque was presented to hospice fundraiser Ian Norris by Pat Taylor, chairman of Haverhill Sinfonia. The bumper total was raised at the group's concert in aid of the appeal in April.

Pat is very involved with the work of the hospice and is a volunteer worker at its Macmillan unit. She has also been involved with setting up an outreach clinic at the coffee bar at Haverhill Library. It is held on the last Friday of the month from 10am to noon and others are welcome to join in.

Pat said: "We were very pleased with the attendance at the concert. I think people came along to support the appeal because it is such a wonderful cause."

Mr Norris said: "We are very grateful. It is another fantastic contribution and nice way of raising money."

How can you help?

WE CANNOT reach our target without your help – so the Weekly News wants to hear from anyone who is organising fund-raising discos, barbecues, dances or other events to boost the hospice appeal.

Tell us what you are planning and we will help publicise your event to make sure it is a success and raises as much money as possible. If you already have an event organised, why not pledge all or part of the proceeds to the appeal and benefit from the extra publicity to help a really good cause.

A special bank account has been set up at Barclay's Bank. Cash or cheques can be paid in directly to the St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal, sort code 201612, account number 80981842. An on-line donations page has also been created at www.justgiving.com/haverhillweeklynews, which also gives details of how to donate by text, and you can donate by phone on (01284) 715582, at the hospice shop in High Street, Haverhill, or the Weekly News office in Queen Street, Haverhill.

'Keep control of your wayward children'

A 73-YEAR-OLD grandmother is urging parents to exercise more control over their children after she was slapped on the back of the head by a youngster who whizzed past her on a bike.

The woman, who asked not to be named, said she had been shocked when the boy – who she believes was about nine year old and with another even younger boy – struck her and then rode away laughing. She said it was not the first time she had been faced with children cycling on the pavement, who were abusive when challenged.

The woman said: "I had done nothing to him, I did not even hear him coming up behind me.

"My children would never have dared to do such a thing and were taught to respect older people.

"I would just like the parents to think about what their children are doing and please show them some discipline."

Alex Keep, of Haverhill Red Cross, raised the issue of danger to older people and those with disabilities from young people riding on the pavement at this week's Haverhill Partnership group meeting. Inspector Andy Smith, Haverhill Police, said officers would investigate the incident.

Platinum celebration for happy couple

A COUPLE who were parted for four years after their wedding during the war years have just celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary.

Kathleen and Vernon Ambridge, of Cornish Close, Horseheath, celebrated the platinum anniversary with family and friends at the Red Lion pub in Great Wratting. Kathleen, 89, and Vernon, 94, also enjoyed a visit to the Thurstford Steam Museum in Norfolk.

The couple are in remarkably good health, still doing all their own cooking and cleaning, and Vernon still grows his own vegetables in the garden. The couple have two daughters, Diane Moore and Joy Egan, as well as four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Their eldest grandson lives in America, but was travelling to England for the party.

The couple married in Luton after meeting at work and shortly afterwards Vernon was sent to Burma with the army and could not see or contact Kathleen for four years. He was awarded a Burma Star for his service and is very proud of his medal.

Mrs Moore said her parents lived happily together and were quite independent, although they received support from the family. Although Mrs Ambridge suffered with her hips, they both managed to keep quite active. Mr Ambridge spent all his working life as a printer.

New schools' plan unveiled

Rosalind Turner, director for children and young people, said similar issues had been raised about Clare as had been the case in the original consultation.

It was still planned to close Clare Middle School, but she understood that the Clare group might put forward a proposal for a Foundation Trust secondary school, perhaps including pupils from the Essex catchment area. This would be considered if it was received, but the council thought there was insufficient call for more school places.

A Foundation Trust school would own its own building, run and manage its own staff in partnership with parents and businesses, but would still be part of the county council school system.

If the final plans are approved, middle schools in Haverhill and Clare would close in September 2011, with pupils staying on at primary until they are 11.

Cllr O'Brien said: "A two-year transition period has been included in the review timetable. This will help to ensure adequate preparation has taken place to make the transition as smooth as possible for everyone involved."

"It also allows us to provide training and development opportunities for our staff to ensure they can help youngsters improve their levels of achievement."

Businessman's attack on High Street plans

By Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

AN ANGRY businessman has condemned revised plans for pedestrianisation of Haverhill High Street as unworkable and slammed transport officials for failing to directly consult him on the issue over the past 30 years.

Christopher Gurteen attended Monday's meeting of the Haverhill Partnership Forum to point out that he had not been informed of new revised plans to pedestrianise the High Street, which had been discussed by the group's executive committee.

Although he had been visited by Kevin Shipp, of Suffolk County Council, on May 13, Mr Gurteen said no mention had been made to him of new pedestrianisation plans.

The executive committee was told that Kevin Shipp was working with local businesses to draw up a new proposal with access for up to 20 permit holders to use the Market Hill, then turn right up Quaker Lane, which will have a one-way traffic flow, on to a new access road into the car park and exit through Helions Road.

Restrictions would be on Sunday to Friday from 10am to 4pm, and Saturday from 6am to 6pm.

Mike Manning told the committee he would ask Mr Shipp to investigate reversal of one-way traffic along Quakers Lane, use of car parking spaces on High Street, enforceability, and the barrier for the High Street.

■ LEFT OUT . . . Christopher Gurteen said he had never been consulted on pedestrianisation.

Mr Manning would also ask Mr Shipp to discuss with Steve Boor a traffic study of the area, as the last one was carried out in 2000.

It was agreed in principle to support the revised scheme with more detail for consultation.

Mr Gurteen, whose factory site at Chantry Mill, Haverhill, takes access from the High Street, said: "It is typical of the attitude I have had the whole time, I have never been consulted on pedestrianisation."

"We are the most important cog at the heart of pedestrianisation and I don't understand why people won't talk to me about it."

"We have up to 200 traffic movements a day and now they are talking about taking traffic up Quakers Lane. It is a stupid idea, we have lorries leaving our site, how are you going to get them up Quakers Lane? It is ridiculous."

Ann Gower, chairman of the partnership, said Mike Dawson, St Edmundsbury Borough Council's lead officer for Haverhill, would speak to Mr Gurteen.

The executive had received a presentation from Mr Manning of Suffolk County Council, not Mr Shipp, and the plans were being finalised before being put out to widespread consultation. She said the committee's minutes would be changed to reflect the fact that Mr Gurteen had not been consulted.

Cllr Gower said: "A briefing note is being prepared and this will go before the area working party in July."

"There is a lot of further consultation to go on and we will make sure you are involved in that."

Giving children the chance to lose weight

MORE than 125 youngsters have been given a healthier outlook thanks to an exercise and wellbeing programme.

The nationally-recognised MEND programme, which stands for "Mind, Exercise, Nutrition, Do It", is tailored for children between seven and 11 years old.

Youngsters who are above their ideal weight go to two sessions a week for nine weeks with their parents.

The programme, which is run by Suffolk Primary Care Trust (PCT), has already helped scores of children to lose weight.

Linda Paterson, MEND coordinator for Suffolk PCT, said: "MEND isn't a diet, but is about giving the child the tools to make life changes and choices about food and exercise."

Anyone who would like more information, should phone (01473) 770007 or visit www.mendprogramme.org

Band and choir unite for concert

A BAND will join forces with a choir for a charity concert and then host one of its own later in the year.

Haverhill Silver Band has been invited by the St Edmundsbury Male Voice Choir to help them raise money for ACT (Addenbrooke's Charitable Trust) and Papworth Hospital.

The joint concert will be held in St Mary's Church, Bury St Edmunds on Saturday, June 21, at 7.30pm and will also feature Ruth Marple (soprano) in what will be an enjoyable evening of music by two leading ensembles.

The choir will be conducted by Mark Jefferson, who is music teacher at Chalk-stone Middle School, Haverhill, and the band by Mark Ager. Tickets are £10 and are available by phoning (01284) 787757 and 704604, or (01440) 761769.

The Silver Band will be performing its own charity concert at the Town Hall Arts Centre on November 16 in aid of Barnardo's.

This is part of a national scheme to raise the profile of Barnardo's and raise funds at the same time.

International euphonium star, David Thornton, of Black Dyke Mills Band, will be guest soloist in this Barnardo's Brass concert and all proceeds will be donated to the cause.

Great deal of fun for TV show contestant

■ ON SHOW . . . Charles Rowe with his wife Rosie in their garden at Little Thurlow which will be open to the public on Sunday.

Picture: Keith Jones 490734.

FANS of the popular television show Deal or No Deal will get the chance to see some soon-to-be-familiar faces at a charity Open Garden event.

Charles Rowe, is opening up his gardens at The Grange, Little Thurlow, on Sunday in aid of the village's historic 13th Century church, and he expects several fellow contestants from the episodes in which he appeared to attend.

Mr Rowe will make his first appearance on the popular Channel 4 game show, hosted by Noel Edmonds, on Monday and appears on 23 shows before his turn in the hot seat is televised on Friday, July 11.

Although he is sworn to secrecy about just how much was in his box on the programme, where contestants have the chance to win up to £250,000, he is hoping his involvement with the show may boost attendance at the charity event.

Mr Rowe, 67, had applied to appear on the programme after attending a recording at Bristol studios with his daughter, but it was quite some time later before he received a call asking him to attend and bring 20

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

shirts with him.

Mr Rowe said: "It was an amazing experience and great fun. Noel is fantastic, very amusing, friendly, totally professional, and never seems to tire. He loves to banter with contestants and particularly with the banker."

"The game is completely genuine with only one person knowing the amount in each box. Each game is inevitably totally different with highs and lows, mixed emotions with tears, much laughter, and the creation of long-standing friendships. We were encouraged to bond as a group."

"It was great fun although it went so quickly that I can hardly remember much about it. I am not at liberty to give the result other than to say that I did not end up with a blue."

"I met some really wonderful and interesting people from all walks of life. There was Louise, a firefighter from Scarborough, Brian, a 999 operator with Hertfordshire police, Reg from Norfolk, aged 91 and the oldest biker in England, Karl from Wrexham who made axles for JCBs, Del from Doncaster, a welder on Network Rail, and others. We were a fun group and we keep in touch regularly."

Mr Rowe said although St Peter's Church was in first class condition, with help from excellent churchgoers, Edmund and Anne Vestey, the annual cost of its upkeep was around £10,000 and he felt everyone should play their part in keeping it financially buoyant.

Mr Rowe said: "Rosie and I first moved to Little Thurlow in 1965. Our three daughters were married at St Peter's, and some of our grandchildren have been baptised there."

"We want to see the church continue to flourish and for it to be an integral part of our small community."

Gardens at Grange Barn and The Grange, which are both located in The Street, will be open from 3pm on Sunday with all the proceeds going to St Peter's.

As well as charging an entrance fee, the family will serve teas, hot sausages, strawberries and cream, and ice creams, and provide a bouncy castle, face painting, a raffle and other attractions.

Sun shines on group's school move

PLENTY of fun before and after school is on offer for youngsters after a popular childcare provider moved into new premises. The Cartwheels Childcare group has moved its breakfast and after school clubs the short distance from its former base in Camps Road, Haverhill, to nearby Place Farm Primary School. The breakfast club runs from 8-9am and the after-school club from 3-6pm, and places are available for both. The group is registered to cater for up to 18 under-eights and as many over-eights as staff feel they can cope with.

Sandra Bird, manager of Cartwheels day care, said "We are based in the dining hall, but we have been mainly outside because the weather has been so good since we moved here. It has been a great move for us." Cartwheels has moved the rest of its childcare to the Clements Children's Centre in Greenfields Way, where a holiday club will be operating throughout the summer from 8am to 6pm. Limited places for 25-30 children aged between five and 12 are available. For more information or to book places ring Sandra on (01440) 710655.

Housing group is blasted over move to new homes

AN 87-YEAR-OLD grandmother is furious after receiving a letter outlining plans to redevelop her sheltered housing complex when she has not yet been found a new home.

The resident of Horace Evens Close in Withersfield Road, Haverhill, who asked not to be named, suffers from angina and said anxiety over the move was making her ill.

Redevelopment plans for the complex were announced by Havebury Housing in April. The complex provides general needs housing and some units for people with disabilities, but it no longer meets sheltered housing standards and its operators say

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

it cannot be easily or economically converted.

The resident said she was one of five remaining tenants yet to be found a new home. One even had surveyors measuring up in her home while she was still living there.

The woman said: "These are our homes and their main priority should be finding us new places before they start planning what they are going to do here.

"We know we have to move, but I don't see why I should move into a bedsit when I have a flat here.

"They said we would get £4,000 and help with moving costs, but I have nowhere to move to. They tell me there is nothing else available at the moment, and it is not a nice thought at my age that you have to wait for someone to die to get a home.

"If anything happens to me it will be down to Havebury. Why didn't they make sure they had places available for us before they started."

A spokesman for Havebury said more than two thirds of the residents had been found new accommodation, and it would continue to look for accommodation to suit individual needs.

The spokesman said: "The resident in question has been offered a number of alternatives. These include a new two-bedroom flat. This was turned down as the resident's family felt that sheltered accommodation was necessary.

"A bedsit was then found at William Blake sheltered scheme in Haverhill but this was refused as a family member already lived at the scheme. Accommodation at Westbourne Court sheltered scheme in the town has also been offered but again refused, although this is now being reconsidered."

Shelagh Green, head of housing at Havebury, said: "The welfare of our residents is our primary concern.

"We are closely supporting all our tenants throughout the process and will do our utmost to ensure that everyone is found a new home which they are happy to move into."

Walk-in clinic will enhance, not replace, GP surgeries

Sir, I read your recent article on the new GP-led centre planned for Haverhill (GPs keep up fight for walk-in clinic rethink - May 29) with interest.

There are two things that I would like to clarify: each PCT in the country is expanding its services to include one new GP-led centre funded by the Government; and only large urban areas are due to have GPs surgeries merged under one roof, described as a polyclinic. We are at an important point now in developing the only new GP-led health centre for Suffolk. The key benefit is that it will be open from 8am-8pm, 365 days a year. The planned extra service will give people better access to primary care and other community provision to enhance rather than replace existing family doctor services.

After discussion with local people, the PCT agreed the new services would be located in Haverhill, based upon identified clinical need in that area. This development is being supported by the Haverhill Locality Group, which was formed from local representatives to provide local advice to the development.

Working with partners, including GPs from all three surgeries in Haverhill, we are looking at the options for services to be provided in the town. In line with the Government targets for this positive initiative, we are scheduling the first elements of the new centre to go live in April 2009.

We have a growing and ageing population and, with that in mind, we expect to see more people using NHS services over the coming years, and it is important now that we plan for this demand and consider different types of service which will suit modern lifestyles.

Free drop-off points to be installed at hospital

SHORT stay parking at West Suffolk Hospital will be free from July 1.

As part of the annual review of car parking, a range of drop-off points will be introduced around the Bury St Edmunds hospital, which will allow drivers to take in samples, go for blood tests or help infirm passengers into the building. People will be able to park in the zones for up to 20 minutes.

As well as the drop-off points, VINCI Park Services, which is responsible for managing the car parks, has worked with the hospital to produce a new car parking leaflet outlining the services available at the site and the discounts offered to frequent visitors and those with special circumstances.

Hospital chief executive Chris Bown said: "We appreciate that car parking charges are a cause for concern for some people, and have been listening very carefully to the opinions of those using the hospital."

"The leaflet has been produced and drop-off points introduced as a direct result of requests from our outgoing public and patient involvement forum and car park working group and are something we are sure visitors will find useful."

The annual increase in car parking charges will see staff paying an extra 5p a day while visitors will pay an extra 20p for a two-hour stay, or 30p for between two and four hours.

Brighter future lies ahead for Andrew

Plucky Andrew Hendriks is a bundle of energy and loves bouncing on his trampoline, even though he has endured numerous operations since he was born and has had to have tubes inserted into his body.

Andrew has recently celebrated his fifth birthday and is happily attending mainstream school at Burton End Primary School in Haverhill, despite facing many more difficulties in life than his classmates.

The youngster was born with spina bifida and hydrocephalus and had to have a shunt inserted into his brain to drain off fluid at Addenbrooke's Hospital when he was a baby. He had to have a cyst the size of a cricket ball removed from his spine at Great Ormond Street Hospital in London and his parents, Roz and Marcel, of Queensway, Haverhill, did not know if he would ever be able to walk. In 2004, the Best Mates Trust charity, set up by two mothers who lost their sons in a car crash, paid a £2,000 grant so that a playroom could be provided for Andrew where he could play safely without dislodging the shunt in his brain, which could cause brain damage.

The trust also paid for a cabin bed with drawers underneath where all the equipment he needs can be stored, leaving room for toys in his room. Andrew has shown remarkable resilience and could not wait to get back home after major surgery last year, which has made his life even more difficult in the short term. The spina bifida which Andrew suffers from means a catheter has to be used to remove urine from his body. In a complex 11-hour operation last year, Andrew was given a bladder augmentation by removing part of his bowel to make his bladder bigger. Further tests are being carried out and Andrew could face further surgery in future to replace the valves and pump system which have been inserted into his body. He left hospital with three insertions where tubes must be fitted into his body and three litres of saline solution must regularly be flushed through his system. Although his condition means the family cannot be away from the house for long periods and a huge amount of equipment is needed, Andrew takes it all in his stride.

Roz said: "He is amazing, he is always on the go. His latest surgery was two operations in one and he was supposed to be in intensive care for a week, but after three days the nurses had to hold him down to sedate him because he wanted to leave.

"We were told in 2006 that they were not likely to do any surgery until he was 12 years old and I hated the thought of him being in nappies until he was 12. At least he should be able to get out of them sooner, but it has made life more difficult because he cannot socialise because you cannot take everything with you and we cannot leave the house for more than three hours.

"The school has been brilliant and the staff have trained to catheterise him. He could not wait to get back to school and was soon going round showing everyone his scars."

She added: "Because of the spina bifida his legs are very skinny and mis-formed, more like a two year old's, and he has no muscle tone at all. He loves his trampoline and hopefully it will help strengthen his legs. I would like to do some more fundraising to help his development, as everything he needs is so expensive.

"We are going on holiday soon to Holland to see his grandparents and I am dreading it because there is so much to take with us. There is never a moment to spare, there is always something he has to have done."

Roz became very ill after Andrew's birth and was left with a disability, which meant she had to leave her job as a custody officer for Hertfordshire police and she now works as an administration officer at Haverhill Police Station. Anyone who can help with fundraising for the family can contact the Weekly News on (01440) 703891.

Kedington

THE 40th anniversary of the village Meadowlark got off to a good start on Friday evening at the Community Centre. Some 87 supporters enjoyed a presentation by The Bumpstead Boys, of the popular production Ruby and her Horses. This was a true-life narrative of life and hardship, set in the agricultural depression, as described by Neil Lanham in his book. It was supported by music, song and pictures on a large screen. Copies of the book were on sale.

Andrew Stannard, from Framlingham, supported Neil in his stories with songs associated very much with the war years. He also opened the evening's presentation with accordion music. The basis of the production centred mainly on Suffolk, around the Boxed and Newmarket area where Ruby was most interested in race horses. This popular show attracts wide support and is well booked up. Steve Brown, the chairman of the Community Association, thanked the performers for a most enjoyable presentation and the community for its support. He also gave details of the events planned for Meadowlark Week.

■ Diary – Saturday is the 40th Annual Meadowlark, Great Meadow, 2-5.30pm. 1.30pm the procession of floats departs from School Road; 2pm the clay pigeon shoot starts; at 2.15pm the procession of floats arrives at the Great Meadow for the opening by Miss Meadowlark (event sponsored by Advantage Windows); at 2.30pm the arena events commence; at 3pm the fun dog show starts (sponsored by Mis-Fits Dog Training Club); Meadowlark closes at 5.30pm. Arena events and attractions include classic car and aircraft displays, Millennium Stars Majorettes display, kiddies' corner, children's fun fair rides, an art exhibition, marching band, fun dog show, BBQ food court and beer tent; Monday: RBL Bingo, Legion Hall, 8pm; Tuesday: parish council meeting at the library, 7.40pm.

Annual fundraiser will have a Wild West feel

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A COWBOYS and Indians theme has been adopted for this year's annual Haverhill Show.

The trip back to the Wild West is a tribute to a late veteran western performer who entertained crowds on many occasions with lasso and rope tricks.

Reg Weller, who continued to perform his act well into his 80s and was a popular regular with show audiences, died last year.

Organisers decided to go for the western theme for the show on Saturday, July 5 and Sunday, July 6, and would like to hear from friends and members of his family who can tell them more about him.

The show is organised in association with the Haverhill Weekly News and is the main fundraiser for LAMPH, the Haverhill-based group for children and adults with disabilities.

This year organisers are offering businesses the chance to have a stall at the show at a cost of £10 per metre, per day.

The fun will include an adult and children's fancy dress competition in keeping with the Cowboy and Indian theme; the popular baby show, starting earlier at 11am this year to cope with the number of proud families coming forward; and a fun dog show.

New events to encourage audience participation in the main ring will be Glamorous Granny and Knobbly Knees competitions, as well as children's games like Pass the Parcel.

Main arena events on Sunday will include displays by the USAF military police dogs, Tang So Do karate, Wado Freestyle karate, Colette's Dance School, and Dell School of Dance.

A new attraction this year will be a reptile marquee, and there will also be classic cars and motorbikes, a fun fair, trade stands, craft stands and fun inflatables, as well as a car boot sale from 9am on Saturday and Sunday.

Mick Driver, chairman of the Show Society, reminded stallholders that no electricity would be provided but they were welcome to bring along a generator.

More helpers are needed on the day and anyone who can spare a few hours should contact Carol Sloane on 07866 612472. She would also like to hear from any relatives or friends of Reg Weller.

To book a stall, fill in the booking form, or call Mick for more details on (01440) 710600.

Caring teen collects award

A TEENAGER who spends her spare time helping to comfort and bring a smile to hospital patients has received a special award.

Lucy Sanders, 18, from Wickhambrooke, received the award at a special party hosted by West Suffolk Hospital's voluntary services department to thank 37 volunteers who have spent hours helping at the hospital. The dedicated volunteers, who have together clocked up hundreds of hours helping hospital patients, visitors and staff, were thanked for their efforts at a special awards ceremony.

Their support ranged from holding patient's hands during surgery to entertaining them over the radio airwaves.

Lucy was presented with the Dr Damian Kershaw Award, which is given each year to young volunteers heading for a healthcare career.

The award is named after Dr Kershaw, who volunteered at the hospital in the late 1980s and went on to have a successful career but died suddenly aged 28.

Geraldine Debenham, voluntary services manager, said: "This awards ceremony gives us the opportunity to show our volunteers just how highly valued they are.

"There are a wide variety of opportunities available at the hospital for anyone interested in helping out."

Anyone interested in finding out more should call (01284) 713206.

New long-term plan to keep residents healthy

A NEW 20-year plan to help improve health and quality of life for people in Suffolk is being developed.

Local councils, the NHS, business and voluntary sectors, which together form the Suffolk Strategic Partnership, are working on the new initiative called Healthy Ambitions.

Dr Peter Bradley, director of public health for the county, said Suffolk was relatively healthy and enjoyed a good quality of life – but there was much that could be done to make it better.

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Dr Bradley said: "Improving health is not just a job for the NHS. Healthy Ambitions will build on existing partnerships working to make it easier for people to improve their life quality by, say, being able to take more exercise, eat more healthily or having more help to stop smoking."

The partnership will prioritise actions to take the project forward and will be asking for pledges of support from the wider community, including schools and community groups, from October.

Clare Euston, chairman of the Suffolk Strategic Partnership, said: "We can help people to make a real difference to their health over the next 20 years."

■ FRESH OUTLOOK... the children from Chernobyl take a break from the school lessons in Haverhill.

Seaside treat for visitors

CHILDREN from the region affected by the Chernobyl disaster have again visited Haverhill and spent a day as pupils at a local school. The seven children, aged between nine and 11, are from the Chernobyl area of Belarus, where many have been affected by high radiation levels since the explosion at a nuclear power site in 1986. They visited Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College where they made fireworks in science lessons and attended music and art classes, all of which were especially designed for them by staff. The visits are organised by the Medicine and Chernobyl charity, and local organiser Pat Taylor said she was very grateful to people in Haverhill for their generosity. These included Geoff Carter, who bought trainers for the children, and the Haverhill Snooker and Bowl Club, which allowed them to play free games.

Jackie Andrews of Medicine and Chernobyl said: "The children visit the local area around Braintree for the month that they are here.

"They are here for a respite holiday, enabling them to have good food, clean air and most importantly, a brilliant holiday. The children stay with families and will experience all sorts of new activities for the first time.

"When asked the children are desperate to see the sea, so a trip is planned to Walton-on-the-Naze.

"We are grateful for the kindness that people show when the children are here."

Nursing bursaries to help students study

BURSARIES will be available to nursing degree students studying at University Campus Suffolk from September.

The Strategic Health Authority will be running a two-year pilot scheme providing a non-means tested bursary of £6,531 per year. Until now, the bursary has only been available to students studying a nursing diploma.

The move is set to have a significant impact on those undertaking nursing degree programmes, especially as the duration of the course and work placement commitments often mean it is difficult for students to undertake part-time employment while they are studying.

The faculty of health, wellbeing and science at the university offers courses in the areas of health and wellbeing, human biology, midwifery, nursing, nutrition and health, operating theatre practice, radiography, social work and sports science, and still has places available on some of these programmes starting this September.

For more information about the bursaries, or any other courses, visit www.ucs.ac.uk or call the faculty on 07894 599415.

Pupil shares her hopes for future

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

TEENAGER Sasha El-Halwani was given the chance to share her hopes and dreams for Suffolk over the next two decades with an audience of policy makers and key local figures.

The 15 year old addressed a huge gathering of mayors, business people, councillors and dignitaries at the launch of the Suffolk Strategic Partnership's 20-year plan, Transforming Suffolk.

Sasha, a pupil at Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College in Haverhill, told her audience she planned to join M15 or become Home Secretary. But in the meantime she will continue to represent young people who wanted their views to be heard, but not to be lectured.

Speaking about her home town of Haverhill, she said she wanted to see more facilities such as youth centres, a greater police presence to tackle drink, drugs, violence and knife crime, and to make young people feel safer on the streets.

She said more parenting advice should be provided to adults, rather than just in schools, and more green spaces were needed, along with a better range of shops.

Sasha said: "At Castle Manor we have a young chamber group and a youth council so that young people have a chance to input their views.

"I think local authorities should pay more attention to youth issues so what children say would be taken into account.

"If our youth was heard perhaps areas like Haverhill would not have such a bad reputation and people would stop calling us all chavs."

Launching the partnership group's blueprint, chairman Lady Clare Euston said the aim was to create an economically vibrant county with a more skilled workforce, which would eventually be the greenest and safest in the country.

She said: "These are the first steps in what we know will be a very challenging journey. It is going to be 20 years of hard graft, but it will be worth every minute of it.

"Suffolk is a very special county and the aim of our plan is to make it truly exceptional for all of the people here."

The 60-page plan has four key themes:

- a prosperous and vibrant economy,
- creating the greenest county,
- safe, healthy and inclusive communities, and
- learning and skills.

It encompasses virtually every element of everyday life in the county and provides an aspirational view of how Suffolk should look in 20 years' time.

The vision includes boosting the biotech industry and links to Cambridge, increasing post-16 training, especially in Haverhill and Forest Heath, reducing the county's carbon footprint by 60 per cent by 2028, reducing crime and disorder and increasing inclusiveness by promoting healthy lifestyles and better mental health care.

A TWO-STOREY dwelling for use as grooms' accommodation at Boydon End Stables, Boydon End, Wickhambrook, will be built if a planning application submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council is approved.

Repairs needed

Grants up for grabs as cash chest opens

COMMUNITY groups and town and parish councils can apply for grants of up to £1,500 from a local partnership.

The latest round of Community Chest grants was launched by the West Suffolk Local Strategic Partnership (LSP) at its forum this week.

The grants follow on from last year's successful scheme, which distributed over £24,000 to 16 projects across West Suffolk, benefiting playgroups, village halls, conservation projects and older people.

This year's grants will be available to voluntary organisations or town or parish councils for projects up to a maximum of £1,500. The projects must meet the aims of the LSP's community strategy: to help children and young people, create safer and stronger sustainable communities, improve health and the lives of older people, or offer prosperity to all.

Final decisions on successful projects will be made by the board at its meeting on September 3.

Full information and an application form will be available at www.onesuffolk.co.uk/wslsp, from June 16, or applicants can call David Wood, LSP manager, on (01638) 719285.

Other issues set to be discussed at the forum include how the LSP will spend the latest money received from Suffolk County Council through the Government's Local Area Agreement.

The group will also look at larger partnership projects where money will be matched by other organisations.

Cllr John Griffiths, chair of the West Suffolk LSP, said: "This should be an exciting forum, not least because we have £79,000 to spend on local projects which will benefit our communities and all proposals will be considered.

"We also want to build on the progress made at our climate change workshop and work to put our pledges and plans into action."

Funds plea as fuel prices hit air ambulance costs

BY Rebecca Findley

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

SPIRALLING fuel prices are hitting an air ambulance hard with rapid increases costing the charity an extra £40,000 a year.

The East Anglian Air Ambulance, which covers Cambridgeshire, Hertfordshire and Suffolk, needs £2.6 million a year to run its service.

But the increase in fuel prices has left it thousands of pounds short of funds for its two helicopters.

Simon Gray, executive director of East Anglian Air Ambulance, said: "Prices year on year have gone up by some 30 per cent, which means we will need to find a further £35,000 to £40,000 per annum across the two helicopters."

"Anglia One is a seven day per week operation whilst Anglia Two is only currently operational for five days per week."

The organisation had hoped to increase the Anglia Two flights to seven days a week, later this year, but this is dependent on fundraising.

In Cambridgeshire the helicopter is manned by Magpas's lifesaving emergency medical team. At night, the volunteer doctors and paramedics fly to the scene of accidents on the police helicopter, which has also been affected by the crippling hikes in fuel costs.

Christian Morris, Magpas spokesman, said: "The increases in fuel costs really hit the emergency services – particularly ones that are charities like ours."

"The running costs of emergency road vehicles and helicopters have gone up considerably in the past 12 months. People are obviously tightening their belts at the moment because of the credit crunch, but it is still vitally important to support local, lifesaving charities before it's too late."

The air ambulance burns 312 litres of jet fuel per hour and the helicopters are flown to the scene of serious accidents and to fundraising events across the three counties to raise the profile of the service.

Preferential rates are given to the charity, which refuels at Cambridge Airport and RAF Wyton among other locations, but Mr Gray said the cost was still taking its toll.

He added: "Despite these issues, funds are still coming in and we are hopeful that the people of the region will continue to support us."

Entrants get set for relay race

ENTRIES are flooding in for this year's Chariots of Fire charity relay race.

The team quickest off the mark to enter the event was Newmarket Plant Hire.

Chris Last, the company's finance director and team manager for the race, said: "We were honoured to be the first team to enter this year's event as we have run in Chariots for the last three years."

"The team have already started training for the race and are keen to get as much sponsorship as possible for the two charities. Chariots of Fire is a lot of fun and we are already fired up to try and beat our previous records."

This year's charities are Red Balloon Cambridge and Romsey Mill.

The race takes place on Sunday, September 21, starting on Queens' Green, Cambridge, at 9.30am, and follows a picturesque route through the city centre and colleges. The event is run in relay format, with six runners in a team competing for a variety of prizes.

The event is sponsored by Grant Thornton LLP and Hewitsons and is backed by our sister paper, the Cambridge Evening News. Entry forms can be collected from the sponsors' offices or downloaded from the website www.chariots-of-fire.co.uk

■ RUN-AROUND... Jonathan Van Niekerk with his £200 Toyota Celica, which survived a 2,000 charity trek.

Reliable old banger will live on

A REVAMPED 18-year-old banger, which cost just £200, has completed a 2,000 mile charity race to Portugal and returned back to Haverhill in one piece. Jonathan Van Niekerk, director of Technics Motors in Homefield Road, Haverhill, bought the 1990 Toyota Celica on eBay and with help from other companies in the town revamped the vehicle to take part in the Blue Print Rally with friend Derek Gray.

They have already passed their £500 sponsorship target for Ben, a charity which helps people with disabilities who are connected to the motor trade. The journey started in Kent, then covered between 200 and 300 miles a day on the week-long race to Lisbon. Many of the 30 vehicles taking part were scrapped in Portugal, but Jonathan was so impressed with the performance of his car that he is thinking of using it as a run-around. He said: "We got back safe and sound after having the time of our lives. The night we left the brakes got stuck and I had to do an emergency repair before we left Kent. After about 2,000 miles one of the wheels started to wobble, but it got us back here. There were some lovely little cars taking part and quite a few of them ended up in a crusher in Lisbon, which was a real shame. After showing how reliable they were to get all that way, it was a pity not to bring them back. "I have got quite attached to mine and I really don't want to part with it now." Anyone who wants to sponsor their efforts can do so by visiting www.justgiving.com/blueprintrally

Unitary plan is well supported

By Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

THERE has been strong support throughout St Edmundsbury for a West Suffolk-based unitary authority.

A list of reasons why a West Suffolk unitary is being favoured is available on the borough council's website. Within a week of the list going public, 20 local organisations had given the plan their backing.

So far nearly 100 supportive responses have come in. From a list of 14 different reasons for a unitary authority:

- 87 per cent of respondents said they want their Council Tax invested in West Suffolk services and activities,
- 80 per cent agreed that a unitary covering more than 700,000 people across all of Suffolk risks being cumbersome and remote,
- 79 per cent said priorities for people in West Suffolk are different to those in East Suffolk,
- 72 per cent said West Suffolk has its own unique identity,
- 79 per cent thought a West Suffolk unitary would be more democratic, and
- 83 per cent said communicating with one locally-based organisation would be quicker and simpler.

Organisations so far supporting the move include residents and community associations, churches, groups such as Women's Institutes and societies representing disabled people, plus business and housing associations, including Havebury Housing Partnership. Cllr John Griffiths, leader of the borough council, said: "In our submission to the Boundary Committee we said it was vital that any new local government authority should be large enough to be strategic, cost effective and take the big decisions, but small enough to keep in close contact and work with, and be accountable to, its local communities."

"The level of support and strength of feeling for this from local residents, groups and associations – those at the heart of our communities – has been remarkable and shows how much people care about West Suffolk."

"If a change to unitary government is indeed introduced in Suffolk almost everyone I meet here seems to believe that a West Suffolk unitary would be best – and infinitely better than a giant and remote organisation trying to balance the very different needs of people all over the county – not only for West Suffolk, but the county as a whole."

A form listing reasons for the move can be found at www.stedmundsbury.gov.uk

It also asks whether people would be interested in taking part in consultation after July 7, when the Boundary Committee for England publishes its proposals for unitary government in Suffolk.

Further information about the review is available on the council's website, by emailing bestforthwest@stedsb.gov.uk, or calling (01284) 757498.

Talented family, and all that jazz

INTERNATIONALLY acclaimed guitar soloist Martin Taylor has teamed up with his daughter-in-law for a new album and live show. But this isn't family favouritism – it just so happens that the jazz musician's relative is none other than Alison Burns, one of the UK's fastest rising jazz vocalists. Together they have recorded a new album called 1 AM and they are bringing their live act to Haverhill. Although self-taught, Taylor has enjoyed a remarkable musical career spanning four decades and has found himself working with some world-renowned artists, from Chet Atkins and George Harrison to Dionne Warwick and Jamie Cullum. His daughter-in-law's voice has won her a legion of fans, including Michael Parkinson and Sir Terence Conran. The duo's performance takes place at Haverhill Arts Centre on Thursday, June 19, at 8pm. Tickets are £15 and available from the box office on (01440) 714140.

Henrietta, from Arabian Fantasy, will run an Egyptian belly dance workshop on Saturday at 11am, proving it's a good way to have fun, gain flexibility and get fit.

■ Bee Gee Magic is The Bee Gees' entire glittering career wrapped up in one spectacular show on Saturday at 8pm.

Enjoy all the Bee Gees' hits drawn from three chart-topping decades, sing along to Massachusetts, and I've Gotta Get a Message To You from the 1960s, Stayin' Alive, How Deep Is Your Love and Night Fever from the 70s and You Win Again from the 80s. Finding the truth isn't as simple as it seems. If you're going to get to the heart of the matter, you need to question all of your assumptions. For example, if you've been having a hard time finding a job, start exploring your attitudes toward work.

Being of service to others has always been a source of pride to you. While it's great you want to help, you can't deny your considerable leadership skills. The best way to help people is to assert your authority. Pay attention to your hunches.

Electric cars get charged up for the British Motor Show

THE electric car revolution is growing, with more and more firms out to prove that they don't have to be confined to the size of small city runabouts.

These fully-charged, eco-friendly motors will be out in force at this year's British International Motor Show, which returns to London's ExCeL in July, at a special Electric Vehicle Village.

The Village will bring together one of the largest collections of zero-emissions vehicles ever seen in the UK, with more than 20 vehicles propelled solely by battery power.

On show will be the NICE Super

Light sportster, the two-seater Tesla Roadster and models from new brand Quiet Cars, all with the more well-known electric cars from G-Wiz.

Electric vehicles are around 70 per cent greener than the equivalent petrol or diesel-driven car, and this is becoming an increasingly important consideration for new car buyers.

Vehicle emissions levels now directly affect motoring costs, mainly through vehicle excise duty, with electric cars exempt from the congestion charge in London.

They even get the courtesy of free parking in Westminster and other surrounding boroughs.

The British International Motor Show, which runs from July 23-

August 3, is expected to attract more than 550,000 visitors. Tickets, from £10 for adults, are available from www.britishmotorshow.co.uk or 0871 230 5588.

London's NICE electric car company does make city cars, like the Mega City, but it will be showcasing the Super Light sports car.

The firm is keen to stress that the Super Light is not a production car, but shows what is possible when car design starts from the principle of electric-drive upwards.

Featuring striking gull-wing doors, it was designed around a carbon fibre cell, with advanced electronics replacing traditional mechanical assemblies.

NICE co-founder Evert Geurtsen says: "Even in the midst of a credit crunch and with soaring prices, NICE car owners are laughing.

"No congestion charge, no road tax, parking concessions and 2p per mile motoring. It doesn't get much nicer than that."

But saving money is far from the only reason to own one, he says.

The small, stylish cars emit no unfriendly gases – there's no tailpipe at all, they are low-noise and are easy to park, they are voluntarily crash-tested for front, side, and rear impacts, and are nearly 100 per cent recyclable.

■ G-WIZ... free parking in London.

■ LIBERTY RANGE ROVER... UK's first electric off-roader is set to tap into a prestige market.

The electric cars market was further boosted by the news from newly-formed Liberty Electric Cars, which is investing £30 million in the re-engineering of large luxury cars and 4x4s into emission-free, high-performance electric vehicles.

The company, which is looking at several locations for a possible manufacturing base, including south-west England, will design and manufacture a unique electric drivetrain platform to power a wide range of large vehicles.

It hopes that annual vehicle production, which will include the world's first zero-emission, electrically powered Range Rover, will be in the tens of thousands and will create around 250 new technology and manufacturing jobs.

Barry Shrier, Liberty founder and CEO, says: "The Liberty Range Rover takes electric vehicle technology into a new sector, to large luxury cars that people aspire to drive, particularly in cities and urban environments where environmental controls are becoming increasingly tighter."

Shrier says its Range Rover will power its way through 200 miles before needing a charge, and some models will carry range-extending generators. The car will cost between £95,000 and £125,000, depending on model and specification.

While he admits that the market for electric cars is still in its early stages, rapid growth is expected as legislation, social awareness, and technological advances accelerate change in transport choices.

■ TESLA ROADSTER... appearing at the British Motor Show.

Seat's three-door SportCoupe has sports car features

HOT on the heels of the smart Seat Ibiza five-door's international debut, the dynamic Spanish car maker is today revealing its stunning new Ibiza SportCoupe.

With two fewer doors and a more svelte shape than its five-door sibling, the SportCoupe is tailored very clearly towards drivers keen to mix fun and functionality with a head-turning shape.

The SportCoupe's silhouette – at 1,428mm it is 17mm lower than the five-door with a markedly different and more aggressive design treatment throughout – clearly signals the intentions of the latest Ibiza addition.

And that dedication to driving excitement is underlined by the new-comer's technical highlights which include the option of a seven-speed DSG double-clutch gearbox technology – a world first for the supermini segment.

The slick-shifting automatic/sequential manual 'box will be available on 102bhp 1.6-litre versions of the new car, while crisp handling and a composed ride are assured courtesy of the Ibiza SC's new platform – the first application of this particular engineering base in the VW Group.

There's also a different interpretation of designer Luc Donckerwolke's

"Arrow" design, with lowered headlights and repositioned radiator grille serving to reinforce the new car's muscular look.

Engine and trim combos have yet to be confirmed, although it's already clear that more potent FR and Cupra versions of the new Ibiza will certainly sport SC styling when they make their debuts over the coming months.

Seat's head of marketing, Steve Robertson, said of the addition to the new Ibiza line-up: "Traditionally, a significant part of our business has been built on the success of the three-door Ibiza, so the unveiling of this stunning new SportCoupe is a key moment for us.

"I know our existing Ibiza owners, as well as sports orientated supermini buyers generally, will be thrilled at what they see. Personally, I can't wait to see the new Ibiza SC on the road in the UK"

Vauxhall Insignia unveiled prior to July Show debut

VAUXHALL has just released the first official pictures of the new Insignia's interior ahead of its world public debut at the British International Motor Show, London, at the end of next month, July.

The car replaces the Vectra, and it goes on sale in both hatchback and saloon forms throughout the UK in October.

There will be five engines offered at launch, three petrol and two diesel, plus an all-wheel drive version.

But it's the interior space, fixtures and fittings that will come under close scrutiny from fleet buyers, and Vauxhall has set out to impress.

John Puskar, head of interior design at GM Europe, says: "We wanted to create interior environments for all our future vehicles that are warm, inviting and sporty."

The Insignia is the first evidence of this philosophy."

This translates into a high quality cabin with a warm and inviting interior.

Vauxhall's designers have added an amber-coloured ambient light to enhance the night driving environment. The instrument cluster is illuminated white, but, on pressing the Sport button, the lighting turns red to match the surrounding illumination.

Cabin practicality will also raise the bar in Insignia's market sector, says Puskar.

"The centre console offers flexibility and intelligent design solutions, such as a space-liberating e-brake and separate multi-function control on certain models.

"Both the steering wheel and front seats have a huge range of adjustability to suit all shapes and sizes, while adjustable armrests, ergonomically-placed controls, a multi-use storage box, and MP3 connectivity will reinforce Insignia's appeal to private and business drivers," adds the GM design

INSIDE THE INSIGNIA... interior raises the benchmark for the sector.

chief.

Vauxhall says the Insignia's cabin design and rigging-out will provide the DNA for future Vauxhall designs.

The Insignia's driver and front passenger are surrounded by a bold, wrap-around fascia that flows into the glove box and door handle areas to give a feeling of greater space.

Replacing a model is a big step for any car maker, but the Insignia's inside job will raise benchmarks even further in the big family car market.

VAUXHALL INSIGNIA... will be unveiled at the British Motor Show.

Co-op is in the vanguard for drivers seeking green insurance

THERE'S a lot being said about "eco-friendly" vehicles and the rise in consumers switching from gas guzzlers to more environmentally friendly cars, but little is being said about what measures insurance companies are taking to help reduce their impact on the environment, also known as "eco-insurance".

The Co-op has been in the vanguard of companies encouraging motorists to take a greener approach. It was the first insurer two years ago to offset 20 per cent of motorists' carbon emissions free of charge as part of every policy sold.

Its commitment to "repair not replace" damaged car parts has saved 15 football pitches worth of landfill.

And the Co-op has now begun offering repairers major incentives not to replace with new parts.

ECO-FRIENDLY... carbon offset programme is incentive.

Repairers who choose to repair a plastic part will receive a cash incentive equating to 50 per cent of the cost of the new part.

Consumer Advice - A Pet is a Lifetime Commitment

Never Buy On Impulse

Dogs and Cats can live 15-20 years.
Rabbits can live 7-10 years or longer.

Will you be there for them - through marriage, divorce, having babies, moving house and holidays away?

Have you considered:

- Do you have the time to give your pet the exercise, mental stimulation, training and attention it needs?
- Dogs and cats cost around £500-£1000 a year to keep.
- If this is a pet for the children, who will look after the animal when the children leave home?

Note: Under the Animal Welfare Act 2006 a pet owner has a legal duty to ensure the welfare of his animal(s).

If you decide to buy a pet we would always recommend the following:

- Please consider contacting your local animal rescue/rehoming centre. There are thousands of healthy, loving animals all over the UK who need a home.
- Research before you buy. Be sure you understand the needs of the pet you are interested in. Check that your lifestyle and environment suit the animal.
- When buying kittens and puppies, insist on seeing the mother with the litter. Check that the facilities are clean and the animals appear alert and healthy. You should be able to handle them freely under supervision. Make sure your chosen pet is old enough to leave its mother.
- Ensure that the animal you are buying is healthy and free from signs of injury or disease. Always ask for a copy of its medical records including vaccination certificate and records of worming and flea treatment.
- Be prepared to wait: the right pet is worth waiting for!

Bircher backing Biller to excel in open water

AFTER the disappointment of failing to qualify for Beijing, Haverhill swimmer Alan Bircher has now set his sights on a fresh challenge of coaching his girlfriend Stefanie Biller.

The duo have embarked on an adventure as coach and swimmer with the aim of Biller finishing in the top five places in the Open Water swimming events in the London 2012 Olympic Games in four years' time.

Biller, who is senior female club captain at West Suffolk Swimming Club, is an outstanding young long distance swimmer who has already proved she can compete with the best in the world.

The 22 year old won silver in the 5km open water race at the 2004 European Championships in Madrid and, at the 2006 European Championships in Budapest, she added a bronze to her personal medal haul in the gruelling 25km open water event, finishing just 10.4 seconds behind the gold medalist after five-and-a-half hours of swimming.

She transferred from Germany to train in Bath in the summer of 2006 to combine her training with studying for a Foundation Degree in Sports Performance at the University of Bath.

Although swimming in the open sea, lakes and docks is what open water is really about, most of Biller's training will be pool-based with a lot of distance training done at the West Suffolk club.

Biller now continues her assault on the Marathon World Cup, where she will compete in five races on successive weekends.

Having opted out of the first three events earlier in the season, Biller will have to play catch-up in the points tables and make the most of the next five races, starting in Italy on July 6.

Biller then swims in Serbia, Macedonia and Canada, a total racing distance of 151km in five weekends, with the final 15km taking place in Mexico in October.

■ PLAYING CATCH-UP... Stefanie Biller, who will embark on a hectic schedule next month.

'Heath go top thanks to duo

DAN Goldsmith and Mike Ketteridge chalked up 55 runs between them to help Horseheath power to the top of Division One with a 13-run defeat of Haverhill in the Adams Harrison Midweek Cricket League.

The visitors were put in to bat and managed 124 for 9 thanks to hits from Goldsmith (29) and Ketteridge (26), while Martyn Wilkins took 3 for 19.

In reply, Haverhill's Dan Wilkins made 27, but three wickets for Gary Ellis stunted the chase as the home side finished short on 111 for 6.

In Division 3B, Castle Manor slipped to a six-wicket loss at the hands of Mill Green after their total of 103 for 8 was bettered by the visitors with a successful response of 108 for 4.

GOLF

It's all fingers crossed after young Marsh's golden run

THE Saturday Medal round at Coupals Road had two other competitions attached – the EGU Gold Medal and the third and deciding leg of the Cecil Darken Over-50's Cup.

The EGU Gold Medal went to the best round of the day from Tom Marsh, 16, who returned a nett score of 64 to win the Haverhill medal.

Hopefully, Marsh's score will be good enough to qualify him for the finals at Woodhall Spa later in the year, but there is only one place open for a Suffolk golfer, and qualifying does not finish until early July.

In the Cecil Darken Cup, three rounds are played and the worst is dropped, but Murray McKenzie only required two appearances.

Missing out on round two, he added a 72 to his opening effort of 64 to post a winning score of 136, two shots better than runner-up Gordon Price.

There were four matches during the week, which resulted in an away win by the seniors at Ely (3½-4½) and a draw at home to Leighton.

On Friday evening, the ladies came to within one hole of tying with the juniors in their annual foursomes contest, while a Haverhill mixed team beat Gosfield on Sunday at Coupals Road.

FOOTBALL

Crowning glory for top Warriors

WEST Wrattling Under-10 Reds' season came to a thrilling climax with victory in the ever-competitive Spartak 78 tournament on Sunday. With a depleted squad, the Warriors went into the tournament just hoping for the best, but an impressive display of passing football and good movement off the ball ensured they would add to their increasing cupboard of silverware. The 10 teams in the competition were split into two groups of five. West Wrattling successfully steered their way into the last four by topping their group with wins over Teversham, Balsham and Linton Aztecs, while a single defeat against Saffron Walden Town produced extra incentive when the two teams clashed again in the final later in the day. The semi-final saw Wrattling play Great Bardfield and as the temperatures soared, so did the standard of the Wrattling's play as they eased their way into the final with an emphatic 5-0 triumph.

The final was a chance for the Wrattling lads to gain revenge against Walden, who had reached the final by way of a penalty shootout win in the semis. It was Walden who had the first chance, but Callum Dray, deputising in goal, pulled off a great save to keep the scores level. As the game progressed, Wrattling began to take control and the breakthrough came midway through the second half with a delightful cross from skipper Paul Jenkinson finding the head of Alex Carter, who nodded past the advancing keeper. The remainder of the game saw Wrattling play keep-ball, ensuring the Walden team had no way back. Wrattling scored 13 goals through the tournament and conceded just two. Squad: Callum Dray, Rhys Shulver, Sean Elsom, Paul Jenkinson (captain), Cameron Kidd, Joshua Ruthven, Alex Carter, Joshua Osuchukwu. Tournament goalscorers: Carter (7), Jenkinson (3), Kidd (2), Osuchukwu.

Towers wickets prove to be key

■ IN THE RUNS . . . Horseheath's Dan Goldsmith.

WILLIAM Russell's century was not enough to prevent Horseheath ending their three-game losing streak with a narrow eight-run victory over Thriplow in Cheffins CCA Senior League, Division One.

Winning captain Gary Ellis made 45 and he was backed up by Dan Goldsmith (41) and Martin Ketteridge (31) as the hosts were all out for 201. Nigel Morris shone with 6 for 60 and teenager Ally Cliffe held five catches. Russell's 107 and Martin Craze's 40 gave Thriplow hope, but Martin Towers cleaned up the tail and they were dismissed for 193.

■ Jimmy Handley did the business with the bat with his first century for Cambridge NCI, and Jake Allcock followed up with five wickets in an eight-run win over Weston Colville in Tucker Gardner Cambs & Hunts Premier League, Division Two action on Saturday.

Heavy rain almost forced the game to be abandoned, but NCI got off to a solid start with Handley and Tom Griffiths (60) putting on 101 for the second wicket. Handley was eventually run out on 114 before Peter Allcock (15) and Rico White (18) chipped in with runs near the end to push NCI up to 247 for 7. Trevor Westley was the main wicket-taker for the hosts with 4 for 22.

After the rain, Colville were given a new target of 145, while NCI had to take seven wickets. And Jake Allcock duly settled the game as his 5 for 29 stopped Colville short on 137 for 7. Runs came from Trevor Westley (25), Adam Curtis (27) and Adie Westley (28).

NCI captain Ed Craigen said: "It's always nice to keep winning. It looked like the game was going to get called off at one point, but credit to the umpires, they did everything to allow us to play."

■ Rob Sullivan's Haverhill triumphed by five wickets in their mid-table Division Two clash with Elmstead Grasshoppers in the Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship.

The hosts dismissed their opponents for 119 and went on to amass 122 for 5 and claim 20 points.

■ TREVOR WESTLEY . . . Snared NCI four scalps.
